

דן הרוארד דיטשה בנק

Dan joined Deutsche Bank in late 2004 to establish the bank's research presence in Israel. His research universe includes the technology, chemicals and real estate sectors. Prior to joining Deutsche Bank, Dan was Head of Israel Equity Research at HSBC, a technology analyst at ING Barings and Ofek Securities, and an economist at Motorola Israel's corporate headquarters. He is an Institutional Investor and Extel ranked analyst. Dan holds a MBA from Tel Aviv University and a BA joint hons. in Management Studies/Economic and Social History from Leeds University. He was born in the UK and has been based in Israel since 1992.

